Getting the runaround

According to The New York Times list of best-selling nonfiction books, "The Complete Book of Running," by James F. Fixx ranks in the number two position.

Whether you've just finished reading the book and want to test your prowess or are a veteran runner, the annual Weekender Mini-Marathon is for you.

Cosponsored by The Morning Call Weekender and the Allentown YMCA, the 9.8-mile race through Allentown's Lehigh Parkway will begin at 10:30 a.m., next Saturday, near the lower parking lot of the Y. The run will benefit the Campership Fund of the YMCA. Advance entries are $3; post entries $4.

Trophies and medals will be awarded to the top runners in various categories.

In addition, trophies will be given to the oldest and youngest entries; the overall winner will also receive the Donald P. Miller Trophy.

For more information and the official entry blank, call the race director, Charles Hoffman, physical education director at the Allentown Y, (215) 432-6821.
