Dear Hen,

Hi. I'm at work now. Was thinking about you - like always and thought I'd write in my free moments. The highlight of my day so far was with these 2 little kids (little peanuts). I was working down in first + they were crying all morning - so I went in and talked to em. They were just sitting in their cribs with nothing to do. So I gave them some books and played with them. They were so cute. The little girl had big brown eyes and she started talking to me. It was really neat.

Well, I just got home now. After supper, I'll run Nicky up to the mall cause she needs to get a few things. I'll treat her to some frozen yogurt after were done. I'm giving my certificate for Swenson for when you come home for Christmas - it'll be like old times - my, better.

We had our mini-missions weekend this weekend. The speaker was Marvin Rosenthal - He had some real great messages. We had our meager meal on Sat night - Chicken gumbo soup, bread without butter, + water. The money we would have spent to go out to eat was given to world relief. We got $255.00 to send to world relief. We weren't to eat anything else like rest of the night so we could go to bed hungry like a lot of the world does. Nicky + I played 2 songs after the meal.

On Sunday night, Kim Gelman showed slides of Argentina and what she'll be involved in when she gets there in January. They were great. I talked with her afterward + she's real excited.

about going. All her support is in. She's just waiting on her visa. She'll be doing part-time secretarial work and be a phys-ed director at the Wood of life camp there. It's pretty neat.

I took my pictures into work today. Everyone was so impressed with how you look - so mature + handsome. Judy thinks you're gorgeous. Of course, I was so proud, stating that you are also a beautiful person on the inside. I'm sure I'm the envy of all.

I'm wondering how your busy week is going. I pray for you always. Today is warm here - 75°; tomorrow is only expected to go to the mid 50's - so I guess now we're getting your cooler weather. Praying you are warm enough. I want to keep you warm. If I were there, you wouldn't ever need a blanket.

Today I saw an autopsy. Dr Heller, who we're treating with ultrasound for his shoulder, told us that he'd call us when he had an autopsy + anyone interested could observe. So, today - he called + no one else wanted to go down so I did. The smell was sorta bad but I got used to it. It was just a chest autopsy - heart + lungs. They cut open the chest in a U and draped it up over her face. Anyway, it was informative as Dr Heller explained all the complications to me. He was very open for any questions I had. I feel just a bit more educated now - I never had seen lungs before. Work is better, or I guess I should Pray, I'm accepting the charges letter. I don't want to have a better attitude. Pray that my attitude would be a selfless one - not selfish. But, I would like to find another job - maybe in private practice with someone, or a group - pray about it. Thing is, I don't feel the Lord really leading me to go find another, but I do feel He's leading me away from AOH. It's hard to explain. There are no job openings ~~at~~ of now - I guess that's why I don't feel led anywhere else. I'll have to wait on the Lord - maybe one will come up soon.

NIGHT. Just got home from your house and calling you. You are great! I love talkin' with you. I could hardly get off the phone. I want to hug you. I want to kiss you and roll all over the floor with you. I want to smell your hair and rub noses with you. I want our lips to meet - Oh - I love you. It'll be so great to be with you. Total ecstasy - euphoria! I enjoyed talking with your parents. You wouldn't believe - they wouldn't take my money - those buggers. I'm gonna buy them smother's special - they're so kind to me. They're making up a picture for me of Heidi with the shawl over her head. That is so nice of them - + with all the work your aunt has to do. I'll tell you - sometimes I could cry when I think of how good they are to me. So friendly and your mom made me supper a lot. I love your family - and - You!!! - you babe!!!! and you are gonna get it - no y's and's or but's. So watch it.

We will get to go to Hauck Mt together sometime. There's so many things we'll get to do together. Like you say - we'll do it all. I'm anxious. We went a round about way to Hauck Mt - ~~309 N~~ 309 N to 895. We came back on 100. I'll have to show you my pictures from there. (I didn't get any back yet). The reason I didn't go the way you drew it is cause I didn't get that till after we went.

Hen, that's O.K. about going to the Christmas party Dec 15. I might go, if I can go ~~any~~ alone. I don't know if only couples can go or what. No need for you to be sorry.

I'm planning to go hiking Mt Sat. Just me - and I know I'd wish you were there. We could pitch our tent - make a fire and well - do whatever we felt like doing - like... sleeping. Oh, Hen, when we finally do get together, it will be the greatest. When I get you, I'm really gonna get you good. You'll see.

I'm thanking the Lord for His provision + constant protection over you. He is good to us.

Love you forever,
