Henry,

I miss you. I was so happy to hear that your tests went well. It's neat to see ~~the~~ the Lord answer my prayers. I pray you'll be truly blessed in all you do. I'm concerned about your knee. You should see about going to the Dr when you come home. I'm glad you can wear your knee pads. You're my babe, and I want you to be alright and feel good + be happy. I want you, Hen.

Took your suggestions today + got your bike up and rode instead of running. It was a beautiful day - about 60° and pretty! Actually, it felt good to change from the ole' routine. Thanks for letting me use your bike. ~~I didn't even need air in the tires.~~ It didn't even need air in the tires. You're so good to me to let me use your bike.

I liked talking with your aunt + mom last night. I thought about it today - how I feel close to them and I wanna always be close to them and have a good relationship with them. You're mom is really good - once you get to know her she opens up I love her. Sometimes I feel like hugging her, but I'm not sure how she'd take it.

Babe, you are so special to me. It's so hard not being with you but I know the Lord has a plan for both of us. I'm confident that He will keep us together, close even though we're apart. You've given me such an assurance of your love. and I'm looking forward to Thanksgiving more than anything!!

Thursday 10/26/78

Babe, I love you. You are on my mind constantly. It's a rainy day out there today and I feel real tired all day long. Work's O.K. Today, a decision was made that after Thanksgiving, we may work every other Saturday. How about that. The week we do work a Saturday we'll have off either a Monday or Friday, so one week, we'll get a 3 day weekend! Great! huh. P.T.'s still only have to work every 4th weekend - but still it's better than it is now! So, Judy knows that I want off Dec 29th + 30th (the retreat) so she'll work it out. She's good about that. She's understanding + fair. It'll be like this:

Assist - Assist

Assist - Therapist (Judy)

Assist - Assist

Assist - therapist (Nikki)

I don't know if I'll be working with Cindy or Carolyn but whoever it is, I'll always work with. When an assistant wants off a week where she's scheduled to work - it's one of the P.T.'s responsibilities to work for her - not switch weeks, but just fill in. So, that's really good. I might end up with 2 Saturday off in a row! What do you think? Only thing is - you won't be here to be off with - well, maybe the summer. Anyhow. I'm off while you're home for Thanksgiving and also for the retreat. I wanted to ask you - if you want me to take my vacation over Christmas or over your spring break in March or split it up. I have 7 days. Let me know. I might have to take at least 1 day vacation (on the Friday of the retreat) or maybe I can switch my day off. Let me know what you want me to do.

Tonight, Carolyn + I are going to Nancy's house for supper. It'll be good to see her and Christa. Guess she's really getting big. We might go to the mall a little bit, before going to Nancy's. to waste time.

Heide is fine. She's always so wild - esp on the morning, but she's prettier all the time. Everyone else here is fine - they all miss you.

I have off Saturday and plan to go hiking. Just keep walkin' + walkin'. It will be really pretty. I'll pray for you - for your football game on Sat. Are you going to that Kelly + Charles Colson speaking? I miss singing with you, babe. When you come home, I'll scratch your back + play my guitar for you. Probably lots of people there play real good guitar - would put me to shame. I'm glad you appreciate my playing. I like to please you and you're very easy to please.

I'll see you soon + we'll be together. No one can take away my love for you - no matter how far you are - no matter how long. I love you, forever and
'He who promised is faithful' Heb 10:23 - We'll see us through!
