

#44,
I'm sitting here eating a fortune cookie. My fortune is: "Better and better knows no limit". Well I just got home from work and read your letter, which was really great, babe. It's always so good to hear from you.

I'm so happy to hear that your knee was so good while playing soccer. That's a real answer to prayer. I agree with what you said about glorifying God - thanking Him for all He is and does. Also, just in our actions & attitudes - that we would be pleasing to Him.

I was reading Rms 15 last night especially vs 5-6 'Now may the God who gives perseverance and encouragement grant you to be of the same mind with one another according to Christ Jesus. That with one accord you may with one voice glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.'

That's how I want our relationship to be - that we would ~~be~~ be the same mind (with Christ as the center) and that will glorify God. I want always, to support you in all you do - that I would never be opposing. But that I could always be a complement & encouragement to you - that when people are with us - they will glorify God. That would make me happy, I'm sure.

It rained all day today - no snow - in fact it's 65°. All our snow is cleared up, now. I heard you got more snow. I hope we get snow on Christmas though.

Later: I just came home from shopping up at the mall. I got a few things - lots of sale stuff. I miss you when I go there - especially when I go by Swenson's ice cream. When you come home, maybe we could go there and I'll treat you. I still have my coupon from you.

Well, babe, you are my sweetheart and I'm gonna love you so much when you come home. Be prepared. It'll be so special - I know.

I pray for you.

Now may the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that you may abound in hope by the power of the Holy Spirit' Rom 15:13

I love you Always Valerie =
