My dear Henry.

12/14/78 Thurs.

Babe thanks for all the presents you give me in your letters. You're so thoughtful of me. I'm praying for you that you'll get home safely. I'm so anxious to be with you. We have to make up for lost time. I didn't really think of it till you wrote that we haven't spent a month together in 6 months. That's great that we're still together. Thanks for loving me that much. I love you that much too! A whole bunch. I think we're good together Hen.

Today my dad got his cast off. I'm surprised he has good ankle movement. He says his toes are crooked now (not as much as yours) and it's real swollen. He still is supposed to use the crutches for 3 weeks & gradually bear weight on it.

Today, when I ran, my teeth really hurt a lot. It's so cold out lately and my one ear closed up when I'm done running, my whole mouth hurts. I can't seem to run with my mouth closed though. I guess I got into a bad habit. My rear defogger is fixed and works great. By the time I scrap the front windshield - the back is defrosted. That's quick. Well, babe, everyone here misses you and is looking forward to being with you. Fred wants to know if I'll share you with all of the Bible study on Tues. night. I said it's up to you. Whatever babe. Fred & Sue are leaving on Thurs for Texas to visit Sue's family. Babe, I love you so very much. Only 4 more days away from your love. Love You gal
