

Dear babe,

Hello my bestest friend. You are ya know and I miss you a lot. I'm just sitting here alone by the fire with Heide - everyone else went out somewhere or another. It's nice and quiet though. I feel sorta cozy in here with the fire, hearing the wind outside. 50 mph wind today - smethen you use to. It was a cold one today - 20 degrees, but with the wind it seemed much colder. Running today was really cold. I was dressed warm, but my face stung. (I do wear a hat & mittens). When I was running ~~against the wind~~ I really had to push it to go anywhere. Sometimes it almost knocked me over. It was fun though - Trexler Park closes to cars now at 2:30 so it was really deserted. I mean I do believe I was the only one in the whole park - braven' it. I've been doing sit ups + general strengthening exercises everyday and running 5 times a week (when it's not too cold). I feel real good.

Hey, Hen, can you find out for me if PTA's must be registered - if you can I'll try to find out too. Tonight I was writing up my resume to be typed - I'll type them tomorrow morning and then send them with my applications (I got 3 more today). Oh, and I'm taking a recertification CPR course on Feb 22, so I

Henry, Cindy wants you to do her wedding pictures for her. It's May 26 at 4:00. She said she liked your prices (do you remember them) and couldn't find anyone better (I could have told ~~her~~ that). There is no one better anywhere and never will be and I don't just mean better in photography - better in everything - ~~everything~~.

I called Diane tonight and asked her to be in our wedding. She was really happy about it. I knew she'll look just beautiful. I talked to my dad last night a little about who I want in it. He was nice and said I could do what I wanted - but I can still tell what he really wants. I don't know, babe. I don't want to hurt anyone - including my dad.

I have off on your birthday babe. It's really sad for me to think of ~~you being~~ not being with ~~me~~ you on your special day. I hope you have a good one, babe. Maybe even a party. At least you have off that day, I'll miss you especially then.

Our snow last night didn't amount to anything. I wish we'd get some soon. You guys are hoggin' it all there in Chicago.

You are my love, Henry. I really long for you. I miss ~~everything about you and~~ ~~and~~ ~~am~~ ~~looking~~ ~~forward~~ to our reunion. You make me feel really complete. When you're not here, I feel something lacking. I want to share in your life and your love and wake up and lie down with you. Can't be soon enough.

I smile whenever I think of you, babe,
Xoxo
