HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY!

You do, babe. You, make everything worthwhile. Even though waiting is so very hard - it's worth it when I think that I'll be with you after my waiting's over. Cause our relationship will be lasting and satisfying and full of love + understanding, and joy. I'm so in love with you, Henry. Happy Valentine's Day  I hope you had a good birthday babe - 22 years old - wow - getting to be an old man huh? I was just thinking about your friends and how I just really thank God that you have such close friends to talk to and do things with. Cause I really hate to think of you being lonely, but it was good to know that last night you could be with Marykell and go out for pizza. ~~The Lord is good to provide you with friends and~~ I really thank Him for them.

It's Sunday night and I just watched 'One flew over the cuckoo's nest' with Jack Nicholson. That was such a good movie, Hen. Yesterday, talking with you was great. It was definitely the highlight of my day! Like I said, yesterday I ordered my gown. I really love it - can't wait till you see it. I think you'll like it. If you don't - well, I'll just have to take it off. Oh, I can't wait. So far away. Last night I went out. I met some interesting people - I had a good time though.

I love running in the snow. That's what I've been doing since we had that big snow. Instead of running on the road. I put on my hiking boots and run through the fields. Today I ran along a little stream - it was so pretty out - clear blue sky and I love to hear the snow crunching when I

men. Also I saw deer and rabbit tracks along the stream I just can't express to you how I feel when I'm outside - observing God's creation, running in it, smelling the fresh air, seeing the beauty - I just feel so good - my spirit is calmed and I feel at peace with God. It's understandable how you can be in close communion with Him while caught up in His creation. It's been cold here all week (0°) - but we don't have the winds you have there. Yesterday afternoon I ran through this corn field and came to a playground with swings. I swung for a while - nobody around anywhere. It was so neat. I love this snow.
Tonight the moon was full and the sky clear with lots of stars - so beautiful!

Hen, I trust your decision about where to live next year. I just hope there's no problem for you since I'll be there. If you think it's worth paying extra for Smith Hall - fine. I know what you mean about being close to other students so we stay in touch - that's good thinking and that's what I want for you and for me, too. But if we don't get in it's O.K. I'll pray about it.

I'm also praying about your knee, a lot. I feel concerned about it. If you have surgery there, I would really like to be with you cause I hate to think of you being so far away from me during a time like that. Hope you're doing O.K. now and that the Dr.'s there can help ya.

I'm sending you this outline of this morning's message because I was so impressed with it, esp. looking forward to our marriage. Pastor Dave has been giving a series of messages on submission. When I think of the big responsibility the husband has in his headship role - it amazes me what God says in His word. Henry, I know it's so important for me to support you in everything. With all that responsibility, it would be terrible + such a load on you if I would go against you in what you wanted. I want to back you up on what you do - pray for you and help in any way I can. In the area of you being my spiritual leader, I must be teachable and allow you to teach me. Oh, babe. It's so neat to see God's plan and also, I want our children to grow up surrounded by such a great love, which only comes from God through us. I never want them to see me contradict you - the authority; but I want them to have a security in our love - knowing we'll never take our love away from them and seeing our love for each other. I get so excited when I think about our relationship and our life together. When I think back on ~~how we~~ where we came from ~~and how far we've come~~ ~~and just going out~~ I could just cry to see how we've grown together and just the plan the Lord had for us - that we ~~didn't get married till now~~ - we weren't ready for it or for each other - physically or spiritually. At least I wasn't. I didn't even know how to trust the Lord for things till you left this year. But I'm so sure the time is right now. Henry, you are my love

You get me anxious for our honeymoon when you talk about it. It will be so great to experience your love so intimately

When I think about how bad you are babe. Oh, are you ever gonna get it.

Gen 2:24 For this cause a man shall leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife, and they shall become one flesh.

For the eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous
And His ears attend to their prayer Ps 34:15
