

4/3/79

Ann, I just finished reading 'The measure of a Family'. It was good. I like the way he used a lot of scriptures to base what he said upon. I just sorta did nothing really tonight. I started writing addresses down on our index cards for invitations. It'll work out good and it's not a hassle to do, either. There are some names which you put down that I don't have addresses for + can't find. It can definitely wait until you come home though so don't worry about it now at all. I figured June 15 is the deadline for sending out our invitations. That way they have 2 weeks to respond. I don't mind writing down all the addresses either cause it's something we'll want anyway for future use.

It's been raining the past couple days and they want more tomorrow. At work today we had some guy come in and demonstrate a Kinetron + a bicycle (Kinetron). It was really interesting. IsoKinetics is really neat. The speed is fixed but the resistance changes - as opposed to lifting weights. <sup>(weight, fixed speed changes)</sup> It's the best way to exercise too, I think. I wish we had a Kinetron at work. They're real expensive though ($2,000.) It was fun to work out on the machines - it's good exercise especially for your Quads.

We're getting really busy at work now. Just picked up over the weekend. The days go real fast though, and I'm glad about that.

Babe, I really miss you. I love talking with you and hearing your opinion on things. I feel so close to you when you share with me how you feel about stuff and when you give me advice and teach me. I love it. I miss just being around you, watching you - knowing you're there, even though we're not talking or doing anything - just sitting.

Wed 4/4/79 Four months from today! Can you believe it, babe? I'm really dwelling on it lately. It's a good thing to dwell on, too. I think we'll do o.k. living together. I've been praying a lot that the Lord would prepare us for each other - that I would be the kind of wife that pleases Him and from reading in the Bible about being a good wife - I think you really enjoy it. and you make it very easy because you're so understanding and patient. Over your break, I think I really learned a lot about how you react to certain things - I think I even know you a little better and understand you better. Babe, I don't want to ever change you. I want you to stay just the way you are. Really, babe I never want you to feel that I'm not pleased with the person you are. You make me so very happy, Hen. I love you very much, Sherry + David are coming up this weekend. It'll be good to see them again. I'll show David that tax - see if he likes the color. It'll be neat if we can go visit them sometime this summer since we didn't get to go down that day this winter. Sherry checked out good at the doctor. They heard the heartbeat already + she says she can feel the baby moving around like right when she sits down. I'm anxious to become an aunt. It'll be so neat to see her baby.

I kinda hope it's a little girl. It's hard to imagine my sister having a baby - but it's great.

You're my babe and I'm really praying for you at school for your finals, your job possibility, your knee + hip and for your health + safety and I'm confident that He hears my prayers and will answer.

"He who gives attention to the word shall find good
And blessed is he who trusts in the Lord."
