How such a beautiful day. Must be close to 80°. This is a great time of year - the grass is turning so green and the trees are budding. I had a great weekend. Well yesterday I had to work and I wanted to be outside so bad, but I might as well get used to it. After work I ran. I didn't have such a good run though - cause my left ankle hurt and I just didn't feel it - so I just ran about 1/4 (once around). If I ever don't feel like running I just won't cause there's not too many of those days anyway. I just sat under a weeping willow tree and by the creek. It was so peaceful there. I felt so relaxed there I fell asleep for about 1/2 hour. I went to see the China Syndrome last night. It was a great movie - suspenseful - good actors in it, too. Then I went to a party. It was outside and they had 2 bonfires going and we made hot dogs + hamburgers there. They also had 4 speakers set up outside. It was really neat. All these dogs were runnin' around playin'. I had to leave early though cause we had reservations at Vantage for 12:00. (I won 4 games out of 4). We played for just about 2 hours. That was fun.

Today I went bike riding all afternoon and that felt good. I stopped and played fisher a little while, too. These nice days are so terrific. I hope you can get out and enjoy this, too. I was thinking about you yesterday with your Volleyball tournament. Happy Anniversary!

Today in church - Dr Goldberg from Moody spoke.
He's boring. Tonight I'm in the nursery. I'm glad for that - I wouldn't want to sit through another message from him again!

Ken, I miss you so much. I haven't heard from you at all since you left, and I miss your writing. You're such a joy to me Ken - I miss doing stuff with you but I'm looking forward to our life together when we won't be separated any more.

Ken I asked Mrs. Taylor if she would play the piano for us for the wedding. Is that O.K.? Also, you never answered me about Fred ~~the~~ singing & playing his guitar. I would really like him to - I like his voice & he's good on the guitar. I do need another organ case. Sherry might not be able to sing at the last minute.

Last night, I was talking to this guy who parachutes every weekend. It was so neat to listen to. He had all these awards and his own equipment & pictures they took from the plane of him jumping & flipping in the air.
It must be the neatest feeling in the air - just flyin' - except I know I'd never do it.
Would you believe he called me today to see if I'd wanna jump with him! Crazy - I couldn't even get up in the plane - those little planes.

I guess I'm not very daring after all. I'll just stick to ground sports. It's fascinating to me - but only when someone else is doing it. He jumps from 8,000ft. Can you imagine that?

It was neat at the park today, all these little kids running around in the grass with the sun shining on their hair - laughing and screaming enjoying the warm weather. I was thinking about how our kids will be, probably. They'll be ok.

The steadfast of mind. Thou wilt keep
In perfect peace
Because he trusts in thee'
