

Henry, it was so nice to hear from you yesterday - like a breath of fresh air, especially cause my day didn't go too good. You always seem to make my day better. I guess that's part of the reason I love you so much. You have this affect on me like no one else. I'm happy that you're getting caught up on all your work. It's neat to hear that answer because I had been praying especially much for that cause I know you sacrificed doing a lot to come home to me. Thanks. I addressed some envelopes last night - thought I'd get a head start on it. The pen looks real good on that paper. Thanks Hen for that pen and also the pills. I didn't try them out yet because I didn't want to get them dirty - I know I'm dumb. The things you give me are so precious to me.

Babe congratulations on your new job! That's so good + an answer to prayer. I know it's His will that you have that job cause I really prayed about it and left it in his hands. So even with a heavy work load of studies, the Lord will give you strength to complete all your work and I know we'll still have time to spend together. I want to help you with that job in anyway I can. Also, I'm willing to give up time with you so you can be free to do other things. I'm sure it will all work out. Your schedule looks good. Babe, I know what you mean about wanting good grades, but I agree with you about it's what you learn - not the grade you get that counts. Besides, you'll probably do real good anyway. Taking Geek is impressive to me, though. I think you're really intelligent and it probably won't be real hard for you. Thank you so much for the detailed answer to my question and all the scripture references. It was a big help to me and I'm thankful for your teaching ministry to me even though Gitters. It encourages me as I see how you can answer questions by using scripture to back up your answers. I want to know the Word that God. Hope we can search through the Bible together and share. It might be hard to find the time sometimes, but God will bless us and our relationship with each other will grow stronger as our relationship to Him grows.

I got evaluated today ~~at~~ at work Judy talked with me for awhile. She said I was above average and that I was a good worker. She said she thought I was restless and didn't use my full potential. She wasn't over-critical but I felt weird and awkward. I'm ready to leave though, so maybe I am restless. I'm just so excited about being with my babe. We can share our lives and not be separated. We can grow & know each other and be so close and intimate with each other. We don't have to leave each other at night, out just stay together and talk and sleep holding each other. I'm ready for you, Henry and I'm preparing by praying and reading. I want more than anything for you to be happy and satisfied as my husband. I want God to show me & look in me so I can be a wife who will be pleasing to Him and to you. You are my loved one and I'm happy when I'm with you. I want to be your helper wherever you need me and I never want to stand in the way of what God wants for us. It means a lot to me when you say you're at peace about next year. I don't want to confuse your life and take up a lot of your time. I'm really praying that I wouldn't be selfish about being with you when you have other stuff. It'll just be so good to be by you, close to you, helping out and being a part of your life. You're so special to me, Henry. I miss your hugging and kissing me. I love being close to you and feel your warmth. You're so gentle and so loving. I hope home you understand me, I don't ever have to explain myself - you just know cause you know me so well. I'm glad my Hen is the way he is. A little chipper is you, cause you said in that picture you look like a chipmunk.
